- Take a small carry-on bag with a change of clothes, swimming costume and any medication you may need to use while you wait for your luggage.
- Take plenty of sunscreen.
- Bring casual clothes for day wear, smart casual options for the public lounges and restaurants and don't forget something smart for cruise elegant dinners plus your outfit for our 80s Rock 'n' Glow Deck Party.

IMPORTANT BOOKING INFORMATION

Travel insurance

Guests traveling on a South Pacific cruise that calls on Fiji or New Caledonia must present printed proof of travel insurance at time of check-in. The selected international travel insurance must have both cruise and COVID coverage. Guests may also be requested to present it during the cruise. Any guest who is unable to provide proof of holding suitable travel insurance will be denied boarding.

For all other cruises and destinations we strongly recommend that you purchase appropriate international travel insurance for your Carnival cruise. If you do not purchase travel insurance, you may not be able to recover cancellation charges, medical costs, repatriation and other expenses that may arise if things do not go according to plan. If you would like to find out more in regard to whether you should get travel insurance, please visit Smart Traveller website: <http://smartraveller.gov.au>. Please note that Australian Medicare, New Zealand ACC and private health insurance won't cover you for onboard medical costs.

Travel restrictions and rights of the Captain
